Bus to Malérargues bus stop: Thoiras Gare, 7 km from Malérargues. Bus fare is only 1,60€.
(Ligne A12 from Nîmes to Saint Jean du Gard via Anduze).

To check proceed as follows :

1. <https://www.edgard-transport.fr/> (valid March to July 5 2016)
2. Horaires des lignes
3. Ma Commune de Départ
 - a. Commune de départ = NIMES (validate)
 - b. Commune d'arrivée = THOIRAS (validate)
 - c. Arrêt de départ = Gare Routière
 - d. Arrêt d'arrivée = Gare
 - e. Enter date and OK
 - f. YOU HAVE THE DAYS BUSES

Inverse for return journeys.

- The bus station is part of the Nîmes train station (2 minutes walk at the back, out the Glass Cube architecture – line 12 is the last slot and furthest away...)
- Let us know well in advance your bus arrival time at Thoiras Gare and someone will come fetch you. (5 minutes by car – cost around 5 euros, shared.)
- Make sure you tell the bus driver to stop at “Gare de Thoiras” - and remind him after the Anduze stop.
- Buses depart on time, but can arrive late (usually not more than 5 minutes.)

Trains & flights to Nîmes

- Paris, Paris CDG Airport (direct train or with quick change in Lyon: one train almost every hour.)
- Nîmes Airport: RYANAIR (London, Liverpool, Brussels, Fez) <http://www.ryanair.com/en> + bus to train station.
- Montpellier airport : you must either take a taxi, expensive, or make your way to Nimes by train (bus to train station and train to Nîmes – longish). Or rent a car.
- Marseille airport can work out better (and cheaper) than Montpellier airport. There are 3 or 4 daily direct trains from Marseille Airport (Vitrolles station) to Nimes (1 hour 10 minutes, 17 euros) Its a question of getting the right connections. Check http://www.marseille.aeroport.fr/fra/acces/acces_pvv.jsp and airport bus : http://www.mp.aeroport.fr/fra/acces/acces_train.jsp
- Lyon airport : if you can get a train to Nîmes that allows you to catch the bus in Nîmes.
- Barcelona : the TGV to Nîmes takes 3h30. Another option.
